Kudos

Congratulations to Benjamin Tran, and his research mentors (Dr. Vatche Agopian and Dr. Hsian-Rong Tseng) for being granted the NIH GI T32 Grant. Dr. Tran will start his first research year in July and we’re excited to see what he accomplishes.

The Longmire Surgical Society is excited to honor medical student, Kelsey Lipman, with this year’s W.P. Longmire Jr. Award for Excellence in Surgery. Kelsey is pursuing a Plastic Surgery specialty.

Residency News

American Board of Surgery Updates on Training Standards

The ABS board recognizes the unprecedented times that we are facing and have made the following global recommendations and changes across surgical specialties:

- Non-voluntary offsite time that is used for clinical or educational purposes can be counted as clinical time
- The ABS will accept 44 weeks of clinical time (including the non-voluntary time) for the 2019-20 academic year, without the need for pre-approval, permission, or explanation.
- For those specialties with case requirements, the ABS will accept a similar 10% decrease in total cases without the need for further documentation.
- Residents should assess their own progress towards the standard requirements in terms of rotations, cases, and specialty specific requirements. Residents should make a remediation proposal for gaps, and share with their program directors.
- The QE applications (and CE application for SCC) are being modified to be entirely online. The initial application deadline of April 15 will be extended to April 30.

For more information regarding the modifications, please visit: http://www.absurgery.org/default.jsp?news_covid19_trainingreq

Update on Longmire Scientific Day

The annual Longmire Scientific Day, which was scheduled for April 29, and the corresponding dinner has been cancelled due to current circumstances. Thank you to those who submitted abstracts for resident presentations. We are working on an alternative way to ensure you can virtually present. Details will come soon.

Wednesday Conferences

In-Person Wednesday morning activities are suspended until further notice. To replace this crucial learning experience, we have taken steps to do virtual alternatives. More information can be found on page 6.

What’s going on with PPE?

A lot of information has been released on the UCLA PPE policies and procedures. A website has been compiled with all the information that you need: https://mednet.uclahealth.org/covid19/information-for-personal-protective-equipment-ppe/

SCC and ACS Fellowship Application Service is Now Open

The Surgical Critical Care and Acute care surgery Fellowship Application Service (SAFAS), sponsored by the Surgical Critical Care Program Directors Society (SCCPDS), is currently accepting applications for Appointment Year 2021.

Using SAFAS, applicants may complete one standardized application form, upload supporting documents, request letters of recommendation, and submit to multiple SCC and ACS Fellowship Programs online.

Applicants must still use the National Resident Matching Program (NRMP), with Rank Order List (ROL) deadline September 30, 2020.

For more information on the application service, please visit the SAFAS Website (www.safas.sccpds.fluidreview.com) or contact the SAFAS Administrator (webmaster@sccpds.org)

Robotics Skills Course at UCLA

We used three robotic systems and KindHeart perfused tissue simulation cassettes. Thoracic fellows worked with heart and lung models while general surgery residents utilized hernia and colon models.

Keep an eye out for upcoming JAMA content published by general surgery research residents, Joseph Hadaya, MD and Max Schumm, MD.

Fun Facts with Dr. Sean O’Neill

The Early Northern Renaissance (1390-1441) Painter Jan Van Eyck signed his paintings with a pun on his name: ALS ICH KAN, which means, “As I (Eyck) can.”

As you can see by his self-portrait, Van Eyck was a real fungi.

GME Support during the COVID-19 Outbreak

Childcare: UCLA has partnered with Bright Horizons Additional Family Supports which provides access to sitters, nannies, housekeepers, caregivers and pet sitters that have cleared background checks. In addition, our own DGSOM medical students have self-volunteered to assist front line healthcare providers. Please fill out the Childcare and Household Management Request Form if you are interested in their services.

Housing: The GME is providing overnight accommodations to healthcare providers that are caring for patients on COVID-19 units. Please contact the command center at Ext. 77115 to request accommodations.

Wednesday Conferences and Educational Sessions
As an alternative to our typical Wednesday morning activities, we will do the following to ensure a rich educational experience during this time.

1. Wednesday conferences will occur via Zoom every Wednesday morning at 9am.

2. There will be two 1-hour educational sessions per week. This will occur via Zoom on Mondays at 2pm and Thursdays at 2pm. Post-call residents are not expected to participate. Clinical residents who are at home, on Jeopardy or Furlough, are expected to participate. Clinical residents who are in-house doing clinical duties and research residents are not expected to participate, but you are welcome to attend.

Wednesday Zoom conferences and educational sessions will be recorded and saved in a shared folder in Box. We need assistance from residents to moderate the education sessions. If you are interested, please contact Dr. Sean O’Neill.
