

WARWICK J. PEACOCK, M.D.

Professor of Neurosurgery, Surgery (Emeritus)
University of California, San Francisco
Professor of Surgery, Department of Surgery
David Geffen School of Medicine at UCLA

The UCLA Department of Surgery congratulates Dr. Warwick J. Peacock on receiving the newly created Distinguished Service in Education Award from the David Geffen School of Medicine at UCLA. An internationally recognized neurosurgeon, Dr. Peacock has served as Chief of Pediatric Neurosurgery at both UCLA and UCSF and in recent years has begun to thoroughly revolutionize surgical anatomy instruction in the world-class Surgical Science Laboratory at UCLA. With skill, innovation, and enthusiasm, Dr. Peacock adds unparalleled value to the education and training in the Departments of Surgery, Head and Neck Surgery, Neurology, Neurosurgery, Obstetrics and Gynecology, and Orthopaedic Surgery, as well as throughout UCLA Health.

Dr. Peacock is a master educator who has created an extraordinary educational opportunity that benefits UCLA faculty, fellows, residents, and medical students.... We have state-of-the-art hand and face transplantation programs due to his dedication. Kodi Azari, M.D., Chief, Section of Reconstructive Transplantation

Through Dr. Peacock's visionary leadership, anatomy has been returned to its rightful place in surgical training. His reverence for human anatomy has been an inspiration for our department and many others. Jonathan Hiatt, M.D., Vice Dean for Faculty

He has created two major innovations both nearly unique in surgical education: a cadaver-based skills curriculum for surgical residents and for categorical interns, a month-long dissection experience. LuAnn Wilkerson, Ed.D., Co-Leader of the Research Education, Training, and Career Development Program and Senior Associate Dean for Medical Education

He reviewed anatomy with us and quizzed and entertained us with fascinating stories, from training as a neurosurgeon in South Africa during apartheid to performing routine vasectomies in a rural clinic. Third-year resident

Please join us in congratulating Dr. Peacock on being honored with this well-deserved award.
